Career Statement.

My interest in aviation derives from exposure to a diverse set of concurrent experiences: Pilot, Designer Architect, and Professional Swimmer. These seemingly mutually exclusive professions bred in me the unique ability to make quick decisions within a known set of boundaries while retaining the confidence and wisdom to appreciate that rules are often meant to be bent but never broken. My background has also enhanced my critical thinking and analytical skills while freeing my mind to develop creative solutions. I am extremely fortunate, based on the skill set I have developed, to understand the importance of details while maintaining appropriate respect for the big picture.
